TUPPER TO GO TUESDAY

After Which the New Administration Will Begin to Move Canada Back to Life.

Latest Returns Give Mr. Laurier a Clear Majority of Thirty-One Liberals.

The Old Government Trying to Complete the Fast Atlantic Service Contract.

Ottawa, June 27.—Sir Charles Tupper has definitely decided to resign on Tuesday. Then Mr. Laurier will be sent for.

There is another cabinet council this afternoon. They intend to try and put through the contract for the fast Atlantic service, but it will not stand unless approved by Mr. Laurier.

Mr. McGuigan, member for South Middlesex, has offered his seat to Hon. David Mills.

Latest returns from all Canada give 113 Liberals and 85 Conservatives, or a Liberal majority of 28. There remain four Patrons and seven independents; of these, two Patrons and four independents will support Mr. Laurier. This gives the new government a majority of 32, with Algoma yet to vote.

From present appearances Sir Charles Tupper's ministry will not be able to leave office until the end of next week. The treasury board met yesterday morning and the cabinet had another long session in the afternoon, when considerable business was transacted. Hon. George E. Foster and Hon. J. J. Ross were present. The most important business taken up was the matter of the fast steamship line tenders. Quite a number had been sent in, but singular to say only one complies absolutely with the terms of advertisement and specifications. It is from the old reliable Canadian company, the Allan Line, and it is understood that their figure is in the vicinity of $225,000 sterling. It was not definitely decided to recommend the acceptance of this tender, but under any circumstances the contract must be ratified by parliament. The Premier said that there is no evidence on the face of the tender to show that the Dominion line are associated with the Allan line.

Communications have passed between the Premier and the Governor-General regarding the prospective resignation of the ministry. His Excellency is at Quebec, but has intimated his willingness to return to Ottawa, at Sir Charles's convenience. Mr. Laurier has wired his friends here that he will not come to Ottawa until the Governor-General sends for him.

The general impression is that Messrs. Angers and Desjardins will be reappointed to the senate, although neither appears to be very anxious for a seat in the upper house. Ex-Premier Tully accepts his defeat in a philosophical spirit; he puts it that as Quebec apparently does not want him he will not seek a seat in either the senate or the commons.

Four members will be gazetted tomorrow. They were those who were elected by acclamation: D. D. Rogers, Frontenac; C. Beausoleil, Berthier; F. Dupont, Bagot; M. E. Bernier, St. Hyacinthe. John Macdonald's appointment as commissioner of customs is also to be gazetted. The appointment dates from May 1.

The town of Nelson has been created a port of entry, at which all may be imported in tank cars.

A shipment of live lobsters, oysters and black bass will be dispatched to B. C. next week.

Sir Richard Cartwright had an enthusiastic reception at Montreal yesterday, and in a brief speech expressed the hope that the past election would be an ordinary degree sweep away those foolish prejudices which had in the past divided English from French and Catholic from Protestant. Never, he said, was a leader found in Canada more calculated or better able in every possible shape and way to reconcile and bring together those jarring elements which in times past had disturbed the common peace, than his friend Wilfrid Laurier.

Toronto, June 27.—Sir Oliver Mowat left for Montreal last evening. It is said that he went to confer with Mr. Laurier.

The Globe says the result of the elections in Manitoba is exceedingly unsatisfactory. The question whether the federal government should enact a law restoring separate schools, or otherwise modifying the educational system of the province, was the cause of the great political agitation and disturbance in Quebec. It is idle to say that the people of the east need not have troubled themselves over the question. It is the very people who objected to interfering with the province who have the right to be disappointed with the poor support they received from Manitoba. What makes the attitude of the prairie province all the worse is that on previous occasions it had declared in the most emphatic way that it intended to abide by its school system and to resist all attempts at interference. In the election of Tuesday the question of federal interference was again distinctly raised, but the answer that Manitoba gives is neither distinct nor intelligible. No body knows what the province wants. It declares in the election that there must be no federal interference with its educational affairs; it declares in another election that it was indifferent whether interference took place or not. It has put its friends in the east to an enormous amount of trouble, defending its cause and then ignored their efforts and acted as if it were very little interested in the result of the struggle. It is not fair to blame the whole population of Manitoba indiscriminately for this trifling and vacillating course. There were many who were consistent and voted in the federal as they did in the provincial elections. The conduct of those who cast their ballots against coercion in the provincial election and then for any cause changed sides during the critical period through which we have just passed is exceedingly disappointing to those who relied upon their intelligence and steadfastness.

For the 4th of July celebrations on Puget Sound the Northern Pacific Railway Company will, on July 2nd, 3rd and 4th, sell tickets at all points at rates of one fare for round trip, good to return on July 7th.

E. E. BLACKWOOD, Agent.

CANADIAN FIREMEN ABROAD

Greatly Pleased With Their Trip—"Taking in the Continent."

London, June 27.—The Canadian firemen who have been taking part in the international tournament here, are greatly pleased with the reception which has been given them. At the close of the tournament to-day, they will visit Paris, and will not start for home before taking in the many sights on the continent, which will probably postpone their departure from the other side of the Atlantic to the middle of July.

IN JUDGE LYNCH'S LAND.

Another Man Prevented From Having a Fair Trial for His Life.

Baltimore, Md., June 27.—John Cocking was lynched at La Plata, Md., early this morning. He was taken from the country jail by an armed mob and hanged to a tree close by. Cocking was charged with the murder of his wife and sister-in-law several months ago.

TO TALK OVER PEACE.

The International Bureau Invites President Cleveland to Congress.

Washington, June 27.—The international peace bureau at Berne, Switzerland, has sent an invitation, through the branch bureau at Washington, to President Cleveland, the senate and speaker of the house, inviting the members of both branches to attend the international peace congress, which is to assemble at Buda Pesth, Austria, Sept. 15, 1896, and to the inter-parliamentary conference which is to follow at the same place on Sept. 19. These letters have been forwarded by Miss Helva Lockwood, to Vice-President Stevenson and Speaker Reed.

THE EVA FAY FAKE.

Fargo had a sensation Thursday night in the sudden exposure of the Anna Eva Fay fake. When the company was here last week the apparent ease with which Miss Fay answered questions greatly mystified the audience. In one instance somewhat serious results followed. It will be remembered that ostensibly to facilitate the writing of the questions, the authors wished to ask questions, sheets of heavy cardboard for use as a writing desk in writing the questions, which were written on slips of paper and kept by the writer while the cardboards were returned to the authors. After some time, an hour or more, the questions were answered by Miss Fay first calling the name of the writer. The answer given Mr. Thos. Skelly, of the firm of Skelly & Solton, was "yes, you needn't worry, your partner is honest." This made some trouble between the members of the firm on the supposition that Skelly had asked some questions as to the honesty of his partner, whereas he simply asked, "will Skelly & Solton's business prosper?"

Mr. Skelly had seen the Fay trick exposed before, and Wednesday night he went to Fargo to sift the matter. He was satisfied that the cardboards passed around contained a sheet of carbon paper, and thus the trick performer had the question before her when she gave the answers. Skelly went to the opera house and secured one of the cardboards and took it away with him. The manager of the show followed him and had him arrested. Skelly retained a portion of the cardboard and exposed the trick by showing the carbon inside. The show manager skipped out without appearing against him.—Grand Forks Herald.

Chicago, June 27.—Five insurance agents threaten to take revenge on every property owner in Chicago in retaliation for the passage by the city council of an ordinance taxing all agents whose companies are not Illinois corporations, two per cent, on their gross premiums. This money goes to the maintenance of fire departments. The agents met in special session and there was also an emergency meeting of the Chicago underwriters' association, which decided to raise the insurance rates in the city 5 per cent. This openly expressed purpose is to hold this insurance over the heads of the people as a club to force the repeal of the obnoxious ordinance.

LONDON'S GREAT LOSS.

From a Theatrical Standpoint, in the Death of the Eccentric Augustus Harris.

Li Hung Chang Submits to a Roentgen Ray Examination—The Bullet Traced.

Ministerial Crisis Probable in P. R. H. —The Minister of Commerce Resigns.

London, June 27.—The funeral of Sir Augustus Harris, who died last Tuesday, took place at Brompton cemetery to-day. There was a remarkable gathering of notabilities present, and the casket was covered with floral wreaths. Among those tributes was one from the Prince of Wales.

Sir Augustus was born in 1832 and has been master of Drury Lane theatre since 1879, where he produced many successful pantomimes and dramas. He revived grand opera at the Drury Lane, in 1887, and at the Royal Opera House, Covent Garden, in 1888. He was knighted in 1891, after the visit of the Emperor William of Germany to London, for his services to the municipality in which he long had held a good official status.

In recent years Sir Augustus was an annual visitor to the United States, and he brought over with him plays and plays, some of which were successful, among them being "Hansel and Gretel," which had its first production in America at Daly's "The Sporting Duchess," "The Derby Winner," and others.

On the opening night of each of these plays Sir Augustus behaved himself in a fantastic manner, appearing before audiences in a curious garb and making odd speeches. But, unlike most managers, Sir Augustus combined the two qualities most desirable in a man of his calling, and which are seldom found blended: Excellent judgment in production and wonderful astuteness in financing. When he left America he took with him many good American dollars. It was as an actor in pantomime at the Crystal Palace in London, under Sir Charles Wyndham, that Sir Augustus made his first pronounced success, and he progressed steadily thereafter. He married Miss Roudle shortly after her father's death. She was a gifted actress.

Berlin, June 27.—Li Hung Chang submitted to a Roentgen ray examination at Charlottenburg polytechnic institute yesterday. It showed the track of a bullet fired by a would-be assassin at the Chinese statesman at Simonski, Japan, when the treaty between China and Japan was being arranged. The bullet entered the left cheek and buried itself in the tissues.

Berlin, June 27.—Baron Von Berlepsch, Prussian minister of commerce, has resigned, and his resignation will probably be accepted.

HANGING MACHINE AT WORK.

Murderers Can Now Save the Hangman's Disagreeable Task.

Canon City, Colo., June 27.—William Holt, Albert Noble and Dunlop Romero last night suffered the death penalty in Colorado penitentiary for the murder of Policeman John Solomon at Trinidad in November last. Only the penitentiary officials and the sheriff of Las Animas county, where the crime occurred, were present.

The hanging machine, by which the criminal becomes his own executioner, worked to perfection, and each man's neck was broken. Their crime was committed in an attempt to rob a gambling house at Trinidad. Holt's family lives in Southport, Mass; Noble is an Englishman, and Romero was born in Colorado.

FIREMEN TO STRIKE

There Will be Trouble in Tacoma if the Laddies do Not Get Their Back Pay.

No Attempt Made by the City to Help the Unfortunate Men in Their Distress.

Tacoma, June 26.—Unless the city authorities secure some means of relief for the employees of the fire department, forty of them will quit their positions on July 1st. They have drafted a budget letter to be sent to the mayor saying that it is absolutely impossible for them to live any longer in the employment of the city when they are forced to work without pay.

They have been quietly discussing the situation among themselves and feel that self-protection demands that they seek fields of employment where they may get at least enough remuneration to buy bread and butter. The communication is signed by forty members of the force, including the captain, lieutenants and every employee in the department except six.

They do not demand all the money that is due them, nor their present salaries in full, but ask for only relief. One of the boys said last night that it had come to the point with them when they absolutely cannot endure the situation any longer.

"It was only yesterday," said he, "that one of the boys went without his breakfast, and when supper time came he was forced to sell his time for 50 cents on the dollar."

"It is so with us all. We must pay cash for everything we get. I had a meal ticket on a piece, but they refused to give me another until I pay the dollar due. We are not unreasonable, we are not on a strike or anything of the kind, but what else can we do? If they will devise some means to help us, we will try and be content, but they are not treating us fairly."

"They had $15,000 in that salary fund that could just as well as not have been paid out before the supreme court decision. But no, they waited, thinking that they might need it to pay interest, and now they cannot use it."

The members of the fire department have eight months' salaries due them. The total of these amounts to about $21,000, of which from $480 to $800 is due each member. The recent distribution from the salary fund is no help to them, as it goes to the holders of outstanding warrants. These being paid, it will require months before the back salaries are liquidated, and nearly all of the men have disposed of their time to merchants and scalpers.

HE WAS A FRIEND OF HOLMES
And After the Murderer's Execution He Never Smiled.

Chicago, June 27.—Edward E. Trask, who was sentenced from Chicago to the Joliet penitentiary in 1892 for eighteen years for his gigantic real estate swindles, is dead. He succumbed to consumption Tuesday night. Trask was notorious for the daring of his ventures. After he had been sentenced and was serving his term his methods were called to mind again by the sensational arrest of the murderer Holmes. Trask and Holmes had been partners in several games for the fleecing of wealthy strangers in Chicago, under the pretense of conducting a real estate sale. After Holmes' execution in Philadelphia Trask fell into deep melancholy and it is said he never smiled after hearing of his old companion's death. Trask was 40 years old. He was born in a village near Joliet and passed most of his life in Manhattan, another village in the vicinity. Trask came of a good family and his parents spent thousands of dollars trying to save him from disgrace.

A JEWELLED CHALICE

Trinity College, New York, has received a costly and beautifully wrought jeweled communion chalice, which has been presented by Professor Thomas Eagleton of Columbia College, in memory of his wife, Augusta McVicker Eagleton, who died January 9th, 1895. In addition to the great intrinsic value of the gift, a peculiarly interesting and touching sentiment attaches to it, for the chalice has been fashioned almost wholly out of the rich gems and their settings which Mrs. Eagleton wore in life. Of the precious stones which adorn the cup many are extremely rare and in several instances represent the only known specimens of the kind in existence. All were selected by Professor Eagleton, an able mineralogist and expert in precious stones, in his travels in foreign lands. It was his custom, in the course of his travels, to procure such specimens and present them to his wife, and in that way Mrs. Eagleton possessed one of the most valuable collections of jewels in this country.

This chalice, which has been pronounced by experts to be the most beautiful in the world, was made in London under the eye of Professor Eagleton. It is six inches in height, says the New York Tribune, with a bowl four and three-eighths inches in diameter. The cup into which the chalice sets is embellished with crosses in the shape of fleur de lis, which are ornamented with three Russian amethysts and three carnelians. It rests upon a stem of openwork three quarters of an inch high, which sets upon a highly ornamented ribbed base, in which are set three sapphires, two yellow diamonds and one Nevada garnet. The knob or boss into which these jewels have been placed is one and five-eighths of an inch high, with another piece of openwork behind the jewels; it rests upon another piece of openwork, richly ornamented, and one and a half inches in height, which in turn sets directly upon the base.

PHOTOGRAPHING IN COLORS.

New York Capitalists Float a Company to Further This New Art.

New York, June 27.—The World this morning says: The World is led to announce that photography in colors is assured. Jas. W. McDougall, of Chicago, and Prof. Joly, of Dublin, who were attempting to secure patents, agreed that the successful one should pay the other a fee and the capitalists in the undertaking would support the successful one. McDougall won after a contest. Ten days ago the Natural Color Photographing and Printing Company was incorporated at Richmond, Va., with a capital of $700,000, with right to increase it to $5,000,000. S. D. Schuyler, head of the New York office of the Maxim Powder and Torpedo Company, and R. M. Dickerson, a wealthy lawyer, both of this city, are the backers of the company. Mr. Schuyler said:

"It is very unfortunate indeed that anything should be said now, but as the World has the facts it is useless to deny the matter."

The process requires a specially ruled screen and paper. A multi-colored screen ruled by very fine lines, formed of dots or small particles, is employed. The screen is ruled with lines in these colors about three hundred to the inch. This screen is placed in front and in close contact with an orthochromatic plate, which is then exposed in a camera to the object to be photographed. The ordinary black and white negative is thus obtained in lines corresponding to the screen in register. From this negative a positive is made in the ordinary way on glass or paper. If now the screen or a similarly ruled one be laid on the positive and moved until the positive and screen are in register the picture comes up in original colors.

Will Droop and Die Without Lactated Food.

As the tender plant droops and dies when not regularly tended and watered, so will the weak and puny infant pass away if it is not regularly fed with life-giving and flesh-producing Lactated Food. This wonderful food never fails to make strong and hearty babies; it keeps them well and gives them sweet and regular sleep.

INCREASING USE OF COPPER.

The London Statist says: "Copper seems to be the favorite metal of the day. The consumption could not be greater if they were using it for bicycles, and though the market responds slowly to the ever-increasing demand, it has to keep on rising. The Americans have been rather against it hitherto, partly because it did not quite suit them, and partly because they were skeptical about the ability of European consumers to maintain their heavy purchases of the past six months. Only a few weeks ago the Calumet & Hecla company sold a large portion of its next three months' output at 11c. per pound. It now regains the base rate, and is out of the market altogether. It will sell no more copper unless at a considerable advance on previous rates. American shipments are likely, therefore, to fall off shortly, and as they have been the only damper on the copper boom, there will be all the less to hold it back when it is relieved from them. Copper shares are in steadily growing favor, Tintos having at last crossed 25, and Anacondas hovering around 7."

Long-distance telephones have been placed in the smallest Swiss villages, making it possible to communicate from one end to the other of the country on instruments kept in perfect repair, and on which one can hear distinctly. The fee varies from two to eight cents a message. Electric lighting from water power has been introduced in even small places.

Another story discrediting the Lee-Metford rifle comes from the Transvaal. A young Boer wounded at Krugersdorp by Jameson's men was taken to the hospital with four bad Lee-Metford bullet holes in his body. One Sunday morning he disappeared, and the nurse thought he had become delirious, and had run off to die. Later in the day, however, he walked in and explained that he had gone to church.

Headache a Misery and a Burden.

Permanently Banished by the Use of Paine's Celery Compound.

No Other Medicine in the World Has Ever Cured as Many Cases of Sick and Nervous Headache.

Sick and nervous headaches are amongst the worst ills of life.

The man or woman who is subject to headache at irregular intervals, goes through life with a load of misery and wretchedness that is terrible to think of. When headache is accompanied by sickness of the stomach, and vomiting, it is called sick headache. Without sickness and vomiting, it is known as nervous headache. In either form a disordered nervous system produces the trouble, and the only remedy is Paine's Celery Compound, which will give almost instant relief and a permanent cure.

It is a great mistake to consider headache a trifling disease. It may not be dangerous in itself, but it shows that the nervous system is out of tone and gear, and that some serious trouble is fastening itself upon the person, which in time may produce terribly dangerous results.

All the danger may be averted if Paine's Celery Compound is used to strengthen the nerves and keep the digestive organs in good working condition. No medicine in the world has ever given such grand results to sufferers from headache. Scores of letters are received every month from those who suffered for long years, and who were finally cured by Paine's Celery Compound, after failures with other medicines. Mrs. F. R. Walker, of Montreal, writes as follows:

"For many years I was a sufferer from sick headache which came on two or three times a month. My doctor could do little to relieve me, and the many prescriptions and patent medicines I used proved useless. One day while I was laid up for three days, a friend advised me to use Paine's Celery Compound. I now thank God for that advice. An hour after the first dose, I found great relief, and next day I was better. I continued with the Compound until I had used three bottles, and now I believe I am permanently cured, as I have not had a touch of my old trouble for months."

SPAIN'S QUEEN REGENT.

This woman, about whom comparatively little has been written, is one of the most remarkable characters of our time, says a writer in the Illustrated American. When her husband, Alfonso XII, died, leaving her the regency of the kingdom, no one in Europe dreamed that she would remain three months in Spain. The state of affairs was terribly bad; the treasury was bankrupt, and a revolution seemed imminent. Then the poor young queen was a foreigner—an Austrian—and we all know how earnestly the Spaniards object to being governed by a foreigner.

The Queen had already two daughters but no son, and the Royalists, anxious to prevent the establishment of another republic, decided to support Don Carlos de Bourbon, and to seat him on the throne. A few days after the death of Alfonso XII, however, it was suddenly given out that the Queen expected a third child shortly. A Spaniard is a gentleman, even in politics, and for this reason both Carlism and Republicans decided to await the Queen's recovery before trying to upset her government. The third child was a boy.

"Viva el Rey!" shouted the Spaniards from one end of the peninsula to the other, and all those who had thought of backing Don Carlos dropped him at once and "stood up" for their legitimate King.

The Queen took the government in hand, and seldom before was Spain so ably and so wisely ruled. Not only did she manage to steer the country safely through difficulties, but she forced the entire population to respect and admire her. The time not given to the affairs of state she spent with her children, and her court has been a model of honesty and morality. Even the stepchildren have bowed to her talents and abilities, and their great leader, Castelar, declared one day: "I shall fight the government of the Queen no more, for it has given Spain all a Republic could give it."

How to Win.

The people recognize and appreciate real merit. That is why Hood's Sarsaparilla has the largest sales in the world. Merit in medicine means the power to cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures—absolutely, permanently cures. It is the One True Blood Purifier. Its superior merit is an established fact, and merit wins.

Hood's Pills are easy to take, easy to operate. Cure indigestion, headache.

INCOME TAX ON DIVIDENDS.

The London Times says: "A return to the House of Commons gives the value of property assessed to income tax under Schedule C from all profits arising from annuities and dividends, distinguishing the amount assessed on dividends from British, Indian, colonial and foreign stocks for the year 1895-96, together with the duty chargeable thereon for the year. The total amount charged was £38,913,302, yielding £1,123,884 of duty. Of this total £15,106,538, yielding £438,581, representing British securities; £7,856,121, yielding £226,864, Indian securities; £10,457,070, yielding £306,024, colonial securities, and £5,492,524, yielding £157,225, foreign securities. The most remarkable feature in the return is the comparatively small amount charged on foreign securities. No doubt less of these is held by inhabitants of the United Kingdom than was held some years ago, but it is difficult to avoid thinking that a good deal of income from foreign sources escapes taxation. To most people it will be a surprise that for the purpose of this return the Isle of Man is a colony."

ROYAL CHILDREN.

How the German Emperor will bring up his only daughter is no subject of wonderment to the Berliners. They know that, princess as she is, she will be taught to be a good housewife, to sew, to cook, perhaps, and to order dinner certainly. For the sovereign's ideal woman is a strictly domestic person, as his ideal man is a stout soldier. His little boys haven't much fun in their daily lives. Concerning these lives the sketch says:

In the Spartan upbringing of his children the Kaiser rivals his ancestor, Friedrich Wilhelm of Prussia. According to Klauermann's "Leben in Deutschen Kaiserthum," the life of the royal children at Berlin is not sweetened by hours of idleness. In their years of infancy the Kaiser's ministers to almost all their wants, spends a good part of the day with them, and enters into all their amusements. When the prince arrives at the age of nine months he is all changed and it is all work. They are then allowed about an hour a half to themselves; the rest of the day is spent in study and physical training. Even in holiday time their tutors accompany them to supervised study.

Here, for example, is an ordinary day's work for the Crown Prince and his two brothers. In summer the happy dreams of childhood are disturbed at six o'clock, in winter at seven. Breakfast, consisting of one cup of tea and a roll, is served at half-past seven. From eight until nine-thirty they are held at work at lessons, to help the digestion of which they are supplied with a second breakfast of bread, with water tinged with red wine. Immediately afterward they start on their lessons again, but mental exercise is mixed with physical, and an hour is spent in gymnastics and horse exercise, which lasts till 1.15. Thereupon they accompany to dinner the military and civil governors of the empire. In sport and other manly exercises they are proficient, and can ride as well without a saddle as most people can with. Their military education is also pushed to the utmost, and that they should understand the principles of war thoroughly, a miniature fortress has been built for them of solid masonry; the walls are nine feet high, and in the revolving towers the beleaguered have the opportunity of repelling hostilities by means of miniature Krupp guns and all the latest implements of modern warfare.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

CATTLE PLAGUE IN AFRICA.

The London Times says: "There can no longer be any doubt that the disease which has attacked the herds of cattle in Rhodesia, Bechuanaland and some portions of the Transvaal is the same terrible scourge which has already devastated wide regions of Eastern and Central Africa north of the Zambesi. The Matbele rising was almost contemporaneous with the measures adopted by the local authorities to stamp out the plague, and subsequent inquiry will most probably elicit the fact that the precautionary measures which the authorities felt called upon to adopt were the main factors in inducing the Matbeles to revolt. It can scarcely be wondered at if the natives were unable to appreciate the necessity for the wholesale slaughter of apparently healthy cattle simply because they had been in contact with infected animals, and this to the native mind, wanton slaughter of apparently sound animals must inevitably have given rise to the most alarming and suspicious rumors as to the intentions of the white men. But, apart altogether from the influence which the cattle plague may have had in inducing the native rising, it is in itself a matter of the very gravest concern. How real the danger still is has scarcely yet been sufficiently recognized in this country, but a moment's consideration will show that in a country without railways, where almost the entire transport system is dependent on oxen, an epidemic among the cattle must rob the inhabitants of much more than one of their principal sources of food supply. Many travellers have sent home accounts of the ravages of the disease in the heart of Africa. As far back as November, 1892, Captain Lugard had drawn attention to the immense importance of a scientific inquiry into the nature of the disease, and of attempting to discover a remedy. At a meeting of the Royal Geographical Society he stated that 'no such epidemic has visited Africa within the memory of man, though the plague of some thirty-five years ago worked a great destruction. Its action appears to have been extremely rapid—a violent purging, debility, death.' And he added, 'As the disease is still spreading, I believe, to north and south, it would be a matter of enormous, almost incalculable benefit to the natives were some means discovered to arrest its progress, and would save thousands of lives among the pastoral tribes.' Had the warnings more than once uttered—notably by Captain Lugard—been heeded, it is at least probable that the march of the plague southward might be arrested before it had crossed the Zambesi. As it is, every mail brings proof that the area of infection is enlarging, and it is to be feared that we are not yet in a position to reckon up the full consequences of this disastrous visitation. The foreign secretary of the London Missionary Society has issued an appeal for help to meet the present needs of the starving people in Khama's country."

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

A Couple of By-Laws Passed at Last Evening's Special Meeting.

A special meeting of the council was held last evening, when two by-laws, the tax sale and bicycle regulation by-laws, were passed.

When the tax sale by-law was being considered in committee, the question of paying the city treasurer 3 per cent. for selling the property, in addition to his salary, came up. In the past it has been the habit to allow the commissioner, but some objections have been made to it. It being pointed out that the commissioner was paid by the property, and not by the city, the matter was dropped and the by-law was passed.

The tax by-law was introduced and read a first time.

Ald. Partridge's bicycle regulation by-law was read a second time and the council went into committee to consider it. After much discussion it was decided to allow bicyclists to ride at eight miles an hour instead of six miles, as at first proposed, and also that either a bell or a whistle must be attached to every wheel.

Section 2, prohibiting "scorching" or coasting, was struck out, as was also section four, prohibiting the carrying of children on bicycles.

During the winter months lamps will have to be carried between 3 p.m. and 1 a.m., and in summer from 5 p.m. to 3 a.m. The fine for an infraction of the by-law shall not exceed $3 for the first offense and $10 for subsequent offenses, or ten days' imprisonment.

The by-law was reported complete with amendments. The council adjourned at 10:40.

TWO WITNESSES FROM WINDSOR.

James Sherwood and C. J. Curtis Cured of Nervousness and Indigestion by the Use of South American Nerve-A-Remedy that Cures Old and Young Men and Women of Some of the Most Serious Maladies of Life.

The secret of the wonderful curative powers embodied in South American Nerve-A-Remedy is found in the fact that it cures at the nerve center. From these flows the life blood that gives health, strength and effort to men and women. When these are deranged disease naturally and quickly follows. Thus it is that thousands of witnesses in all parts of Canada, some who have reached three score and ten, others in middle age, and again those who are mere children, tell how this medicine has cured them of indigestion, nervousness, general debility, derangement of the liver and like troubles.

To particularize: Mr. James Sherwood, of Windsor, Ont., has reached more than three score years and feels. He suffered terribly from nervous troubles and indigestion of a very complicated character. It looked as though he could not be cured, his age seemingly being a barrier. But he was recommended to try South American Nerve-A-Remedy, and did so. Of the result he says: "I consider it a splendid medicine, which has relieved me of much pain, built up my health, and has given me a much better appetite than I had before using it. I have so far used four bottles and still always keep it in my house."

Another witness from Windsor is Mr. C. J. Curtis, one of the wealthy yeomen of that district. He suffered from a general break up of the system, an outcome of a gripe. Almost everything was tried, but with no effect. As a last resort South American Nerve-A-Remedy was recommended, and of its results he says: "After taking one bottle I found very great benefit from it, my appetite improved wonderfully, and I felt my strength returning very fast. I purchased five bottles, but after taking only three out of the five I am feeling as healthy well to-day as I ever did, and I can attribute my restoration to health and strength solely to South American Nerve-A-Remedy."

With medicine as with doctors, there is a good deal that has to be taken on experiment. But in South American Nerve-A-Remedy no chances are taken. The language is none too strong, that it is an infallible and certain cure, particularly for indigestion and nervous troubles. For sale by Dean & Hisecks and Hall & Co.

Harsh purgative remedies are fast giving way to the gentle action and mild effects of Carter's Little Liver Pills. If you try them they will certainly please you.

THE CIVIL SERVICE.

Several Dominion government officials are reported to be on the ragged edge of anxiety in regard to their future. If they have been capable, honest and non-partisan why should they have any fear of the Liberals? If they have been incapable and partisan, they are not deserving of consideration. "To the victors belong the spoils" is not the motto of Liberalism, nor yet will Liberals concede the right of their opponents to make it their own. Officers of every kind outside of the judiciary, have been filled for eighteen years solely in accordance with the Jacksonian doctrine, and it will be the duty of the Liberal government to remove the abuses which that system is responsible for. An official's duty is to the country, not to a party, and those who set upon any other principle are unfitted for the positions they hold. It matters not how important or how insignificant they may be. When a public servant becomes an electioneering agent he says in effect to his opponents, "cut my head off when you get a chance," and to his political friends, "retain me in office for the services I am rendering the party." He practically asks for judgment as a partisan, and if he is treated as such he has only himself to blame. The capable servant who relies upon merit to pull him through, enjoys a life tenure which no Liberal will seek to disturb.

NO NEED OF ALARM.

The McGreevilles profess to be alarmed at the prospect of "experts of the Mercier type" exploiting the treasury. With the odor of a score of scandals still clinging to the disgraced and dishonored party, it is too soon for the organs of the late government to institute a comparison with the government of Hon. Mr. Laurier. They had better wait until the Liberal government is formed, and even then it will be more prudent for them to defer their criticisms until they can show reasonably good ground for them. The Laurier government will be judged by its acts, and not by the acts of Mr. Mercier, who died years ago. A party that embraces such adepts of hoodluming as Langerin and Caron, and which is led by the prince of political cracksmen, is living in a glass house and should not throw stones. If the new government becomes a party to even a tithe of the shameless acts of maladministration and thievery which the late government and their supporters were guilty of, it will be condemned by all true Liberals. But all good citizens are just now rejoicing at the fact that Boodleism and Tupperism were killed and buried in a common grave on the 23rd day of the present month. Canada will never again tolerate either of these twin enemies of her national honor.

RED PARLOR TRICKS.

A few days before the election the following was posted up in a Montreal wholesale house: "Our next pay day being July 13, we consider it only fair to all our employees to notify them that in the event of a change of government we do not guarantee the wages at present being paid, nor do we guarantee work of any kind to all employees at present employed by us. To say the least, a change of government would establish so much uncertainty as to destroy the business of the country for a continued period." This is a sample of what the Liberals had to fight against in the late contest. Some of the Red Parlor men went further than this Montreal wholesaler, and actually put their men on half time, with the purpose of frightening them into voting for the Conservative candidates. Of course they were in this acting the part of rogues, but for that they did not care so long as they helped the "gang." A striking commentary on the Montrealer's dishonest notice is supplied by the fact that in the St. Lawrence division of that city, which embraces the business centre, Alderman Penny, Liberal, was elected over Mayor Wilson-Smith, Conservative, by a large majority in a straight contest. Montreal business men generally were evidently convinced that the country would benefit by a change. Happily their view prevailed throughout most of the country, but in a few places—London, for example—the dirty tactics of the Red Parlor were successful.

THE QUEBEC VOTE.

Some of our Conservative friends have a great deal to say about the Quebec vote, but they very conveniently forget that the remedial scheme was devised for the purpose of securing the Quebec vote for the government. Sir Charles Tupper virtually confessed this in his statement at Ottawa the other day. Here are his words as reported in the Conservative newspapers: "When I came to Canada last winter, I found the Conservative party utterly demoralized, and was reluctantly compelled to consent to become its leader as the only hope of avoiding defeat. The fatal mistake had been made of refusing to dissolve immediately after the adoption of the remedial order, and of calling a session of parliament whose life terminated on a specific day to deal with the remedial bill, thus offering the greatest possible inducement to obstruction. The recess of parliament had been allowed to pass without making any adequate efforts to instruct the public mind in relation to the school question, by which much misrepresentation and misapprehension respecting that measure might have been removed." It will be remembered that the younger Tupper was so strongly in favor of a dissolution immediately after the remedial order had been issued that he "went out on strike" because his colleagues would not adopt that course. He was the author of the remedial order, the stringency of which was admitted to be too severe even by the faithful Montreal Gazette. Take these facts together with the elder Tupper's remarks, and the whole scheme is easily seen through. A severe remedial order, calculated to please Quebec, and an immediate dissolution so the bill would have its effect. Had the game succeeded there would have been no reflections on the French-Canadians from the Conservative side.

The Practitioner, commenting upon the recent election in Victoria on Tuesday last, very forcibly and clearly hits the mark when it says: "No doubt the eminently respectable silent vote of Victoria, which we aptly describe in the words of Tennyson, as 'Such a tide as moving seems asleep, too full for sound or foam,' in conjunction with other considerations, was the dominant factor in the return of Messrs. Prior and Earle at the head of the poll, but it took no part in the after proceedings, and the onlooker was left, seeing the extraordinary demonstration in favor of the defeated candidates, to wonder the more at the decision of the ballot."

Now that the battle is over, and the Conservative party has been relegated to the cold shades of Opposition for at least five years, Mr. R. P. Rithet will probably admit that the publication of his political letter to Mr. D. R. Ker, in the matter of the British Pacific, was a huge tactical blunder. An enterprise in which both parties are equally interested cannot be used to the advantage of one party without to some extent alienating the other. Surely this will be the last attempt to drag the British Pacific in the mire of party politics. That project requires and must have the support of both parties in Victoria.

When Hewitt Bostock, M.P. for Yale-Carleton arrives in Victoria, he will be given a reception by his friends. The victory of Mr. Bostock over Mr. Mara is a most remarkable one, and the man who accomplished it has earned the gratitude of every friend of good government. The "ring," which has for years run Yale-Carleton has been broken forever by Mr. Bostock.

Attorney General Eberts is in England on business in connection with his office. At the same time, he is believed to have his appointment as Justice of the Supreme Court in his pocket. How Mr. Eberts can be, at one and the same time, an Attorney General and a Judge is one of those things that no honest fellow can understand.

ANOTHER PILE BRIDGE.

To the Editor: The city authorities desire credit for having decided to put a pile bridge at Point Ellice, it is evident that they "being the guardians of the lives of the people," have made a move in the right direction in closing up the other bridges. I would suggest to the city authorities of Victoria that they bring in the following by-laws for our protection and comfort:

- 1st. No one should be allowed to rise earlier in the morning than 7 o'clock.
- 2nd. That no business or factory should start before 10 a.m.
- 3rd. No piano to be played louder than should be heard beyond the line of fence and no one to talk louder than a whisper in the public thoroughfare.
- 4th. No vehicle should drive faster than a walk in case of too much heart palpitation.
- 5th. No bicyclist should be allowed to ride faster than two miles per hour, and in no case should be allowed to ride over a bridge for fear the bridge may tumble down.
- 6th. Any dogs found crossing a bridge should be impounded.
- 7th. The tramway company should not be allowed to run across any bridge as the people prefer walking and they have lots of time.
- 8th. Should the tramway company raise any objection to the above they should be requested to give up their charter and remove their plant to some other city.
- 9th. Any person giving his opinion or differing with any of the city authorities as to the danger of any of the bridges should be imprisoned for 15 months without the option of a fine.
- 10th. In case the tramway company refuse to move their plant they also should be sent to "chokey."
- 11th. Any person attempting to blame the city authorities for any of the 36 deaths caused by the falling of Point Ellice bridge, should be sentenced to death.
- 12th. That all the city authorities, taking into consideration their superior knowledge and attention displayed in reference to electric lights, water gas, gineering, bridge building, etc., should be superannuated at the expiration of six months at $4,000 per year.

13th. That all the city officials should be discharged with the exception of two, viz., Mr. Wilnot and Mr. Dowler, the said two should fulfill and carry out all duties now carried out by the others and that their salaries should not exceed $75 per month, and after a week's trial it should be found that one man could do the work the other could be discharged.

THANKFUL RATEPAYER.

POINT ELICE BRIDGE.

To the Editor:—More than a month has now elapsed since the Point Ellice bridge disaster and as yet, with the exception of the city council passing a resolution to build a pile bridge parallel with the present structure at a cost of $50,000 for foot and vehicular traffic only, nothing has been done to restore communication between the city and the districts cut off from it.

In any other city but this not a day would have been lost, and in a week or so some sort of structure would have been erected where ordinary traffic could be resumed. That the contemplated pile bridge will meet the eventual requirements of the case nobody for a moment expects; for a permanent bridge sufficiently strong to be absolutely safe for all purposes will have to be built by somebody, if not the city, but as the city may be legally compelled to build such a bridge as was proposed by Mr. Tupper, why should the council spend money on a bridge that may be useless in a few months? As a temporary arrangement I would suggest that the gap in the present structure be bridged across in a manner similar to that proposed for the pile bridge; and as this would be only one-fifth of the length it could be done for one-fifth the money and in one-fifth the time. There may be objections, legal or otherwise, to this course, that I know nothing about, but to me it seems the most sensible plan. That the strength of the parts of the bridge left standing is ample for all that could be put on them by ordinary (regulated) traffic has been abundantly demonstrated by their being where they are considering what was put on them just before the late disaster, and I don't think there could be any sentimental objections of sufficient weight to prevent that course being taken. At any rate the citizens ought to take steps to compel the council to "get a move on."

D. CARTMEL.

Victoria, June 26.

THE NEW BRIDGE.

To the Editor:—I was pleased to see that Ald. McMillan is advocating to have a bridge cross the harbor from the new electric light station and a street opened in a direct line to connect with Lanes street, running between Russell's Station and the levee. This would shorten the distance to Russell's more than half of the route via Point Ellice bridge. The saving in time, vehicle traffic and wear and tear on roads would be something enormous in a year. The advantages to the city would be great, but not more so than to the government. Seeing that the city owns the water front immediately north of Telegraph street, a bridge at this point would not seriously interfere with shipping in the harbor; rather it would be an advantage for with two bridges it would pay to have them open and close with electricity, and they could be operated from the light station.

A meeting will likely be called at an early date by the residents of Esquimalt, Esquimalt Road, Victoria West and also the business men interested throughout the city, with the object in view of placing the desirability of such a scheme before the government, asking to have the Indian reserves opened up and the proceeds set aside for that purpose.

FUR TRADE NEWS.

The Leipzig, Germany, correspondent of the New York Fur Trade Review, writes as follows to that journal: The Easter fair was attended by a number of United States and Canadian buyers, and also a number of prominent Russian dealers, and later by buyers from Austria, Greece, England, France, Italy Switzerland, other countries. There was a middling good demand from nearly all, the result in general being quite satisfactory. The large supply of skunk could not be placed, but parcels were taken by German, Australian and Italian buyers. A good many were also taken by Russian dealers in consequence of the prices. American occasion was less in demand than in former years, the skunk imitation of this article having declined in favor. Red fox in proportion to the supply did not sell well enough, but a considerable quantity was taken for Russia on account of the low values; Turkey purchased very carefully. Lynx was not wanted, but in consequence of the low prices Turkish buyers took a small portion of the offering; lynx backs will be exported to America at reasonable prices. There has been a limited demand for otter of medium grades, and deer skins sold a little better, and pale southern skins for plucking sold pretty well. Fisher has been in good demand for Russia as prices were not too high, and good values were also paid for fisher tails. Rough raccoon of good quality was completed, and furs were rather small; medium and lower grades sold more slowly; there was a satisfactory demand for beaver; muskrat remains scarce and very dear; muskrat has been purchased for Russia in considerable quantities, good middling sort being preferred; the pelles are cut here and have in elevated prices, being wanted for capes, seal imitation, etc.; business in prime raw muskrat has been limited, as manufacturers of the different colored articles still have large parcels from the January sales which they were unable to get ready for the Easter fair; superior dyed muskrat has met with the usual demand for northern countries. Mink has been taken in many instances for German and Russian consumption, but the general impression is that prices are too high; there has been a fair demand for marten from German furriers; silver fox and cross fox have done much better than last year; but fox, which was neglected last year, has found a little more favor.

NEAR TO DEATH'S DOOR.

This was the Condition of the Young Son of Mr. John English, of Lakefield, Ont.—Extremely Nervous, Debilitated, Seemingly Without Vitality or Vigor, the Highest Medical Skill Was Unable to Battle With His Disease.

Whatever may be the cause, it is unfortunately too true that large numbers of children are, afflicted with nervous troubles. These in many cases assume aggravated conditions and develop often into what is really a feature of paralysis.

A result of severe sickness some years ago, Robert B. English, the young son of Mr. John English, who conducts a large cooperage business in Lakefield, Ontario, became the victim of what seemed like chronic nervousness. The child was taken with severe twitching, accompanied by fits that were deemed to speedily wreck the whole system. Naturally the best medical skill was brought into requisition, but no relief was secured. South American Nervine was used, and with the result that after six bottles had been taken the boy was restored to perfect health and is today one of the most robust and healthy children in his section of the country. The case of Minnie Stevens, of London, Ont., daughter of F. A. Stevens, of the Stevens Manufacturing Company, is a somewhat similar case. Twelve bottles of medicine cured a severe case of paralysis there.

The great secret of Nervine is that it cures at the nerve centres, and for this reason is a panacea sure, certain and lasting, in all cases, of nervous troubles, general debility, indigestion, sick headache, and like difficulties in old and young. It removes these troubles and restores the system, for it is one of the greatest flesh producers that the age has seen. For sale by Dean & Hiscocks and Hall & Co.

A TERRIBLE VOYAGE

The Brigantine Blakely Encounters Fearful Storms on Her Trip To Alaska.

Steamer Danube Returns From the North—A Civer Swindling Scheme Exposed.

Heretofore but little information could be obtained regarding the hazardous passage made by the brigantine Blakely from Tacoma to Cook's Inlet. At one time she was reported lost and considerable anxiety was felt for the great number of persons on board. The following extracts from a letter published in the Port Townsend Call show that the trip was attended by many exciting incidents. Four terrible storms were experienced; twice the vessel was ashore on a sand spit and an equal number of times she was dangerously near rocks, but she ran the gauntlet safely and landed the venturesome arguments in the land of gold. Terrible nor'westers marked the passage and twice the passengers prepared to be drowned like cats in a cage. However, the superior seamanship of the captain brought all out safely. The rigging was in poor condition and immense water tanks on her deck containing water for a number of horses she had on board, made the craft topheavy and almost unmanageable in the heavy seas. Two days cut the Blakely had two narrow escapes from going on the rocks off Vancouver Island. Eight days from port found the vessel 150 miles south of Cape Flattery. On the 10th day out one of the worst blows of the trip occurred, in which two of the horses were killed. There was no help during the height of the gale for the unfortunate animals as it was dangerous for the men to be on the deck at all. They huddled together below decks and were nearly drowned in the deluge which came in through the hatchways and flooded them out. For three days and nights this condition of things continued and everybody gave up hope. Four of the horses were thrown overboard before the trip was completed, but aside from this there were no accidents strange to relate. The writer of the letter says that it is miraculous that the vessel ever reached her destination. Among other things which stood against the success of the expedition was too much poker and too much whiskey.

According to the Hawaiian Commercial of a recent date, two gentlemen who took second class passage from Victoria on the Warrimoo on her last trip, had a big scheme on foot to do something up. When the Warrimoo arrived at Honolulu from Victoria and was discharging cargo there, it became necessary to remove a number of large cases from the hold to the wharf in order to permit the stevedores to get at certain goods consigned to Honolulu. When ready to place the cases back in the ship again two of them were put in a sling and hauled up to a level with the deck when the sling slipped off, causing the boxes to drop to the wharf, a distance of about ten feet. Both were smashed to atoms. Upon examination one contained a shoemaker's sewing machine, a quantity of lasts, old shoes, rags, small tools and scraps of leather, while the other had been fitted up inside with a smaller box containing a couple of dozen of about the poorest kind of red bricks one could find. Around the bricks inside the small box and also surrounding it, was packed a lot of common excelsior, the whole not worth the value of a nickel. These cases formed part of a large consignment labelled the Occidental Novelty Company, Sydney, N. S. W., and numbered 1 to 322. The cases were shipped by the two men at Victoria and they were evidently intended to swindle insurance companies or others.

Sidney, N.S.W., June 27.—The British ship Scottish Dales, Capt. McCarthy, from Tacoma, April 28th, for Port Pirie, has been totally wrecked near Volcan. All members of the crew were saved and landed at Seva. (It may be remembered that this vessel came to grief on the Oregon coast some few years ago, and was got off after considerable difficulty.)

The C. P. N. Co.'s steamer Danube, Captain Meyers, arrived from the north last evening, bringing a number of passengers and a small quantity of freight. Owing to the trouble with the fishermen the cannerymen have not packed a large number of salmon. The only salmon brought down by the Danube was 200 cases from Cunningham's cannery.

The steamer Bosconita returned from the North last evening.

FOOLISH PREJUDICES.

How does it happen that so many ladies are so very careful about dresses and bonnets, and neglect the head-dress? Is it because they are prejudiced to artificial hair? Ladies of the most exalted positions in the land are wearing Frost Dorewens's manufactured goods. They are beautiful and attractive and give a charming appearance to the face. Throw aside your false notions of propriety, and examine the Professor's elegant lines of Wigs, Switches, Braids and Wavy Fronts, etc. Read the advertisement in another column and bear in mind he will be at Victoria hotel, Victoria, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, July 1, 2, and 3.

Mr. James Perdue, an old soldier residing at Monro, Mich., was severely afflicted with rheumatism, but received prompt relief from pain by using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. He says: "At times my back would ache so badly that I could hardly raise up. If I had not gotten relief I would not be here to write these few lines. Chamberlain's Pain Balm has done me a great deal of good for sale by all druggists, Langley & Co., wholesale agents, Victoria and Vancouver."

Fourth of July. For the Fourth of July the steamer Rosalie will carry passengers to Puget Sound points at single fare for the round trip. Tickets will be sold for trips of July 2, 3, and 4, good for return on or before July 6th. On the 4th the steamer will leave Victoria at 6:30 a.m., arriving at Seattle at noon. Passengers taking the steamer that morning will thus be afforded the entire afternoon and evening in Seattle to view the attractions and examine the many substantial improvements the city has recently undergone. Tickets and full information can be had from J. K. Devlin, agent, 75 Government street.

Hot Enough?

We venture this remark in full confidence of the fact that you can't get at us with a club to make it hot for us. It is warm, but you won't notice the inconvenience of this hot weather shopping when you see some of the special values we are offering this week in men's Straw Hats at 25c, 35c and 50c each. Values that have risen with the mercury, but are just as refreshing to the shrunken purse as an ice cream soda is to the heated lips.

LADIES Have you seen those special values in boys' Washing Suits at $1.05, sizes to fit boys 3 to 7 years.

ANOTHER GREAT TRIUMPH

THE BOWMANVILLE NEWS INTER-VIEWS MR. JOHN HAWKINS

And is Given Particulars of Nine Years' Suffering From Asthma, From Which He Has Been Restored to Health When His Case Was Looked on as Hopeless.

During the past five years the Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have developed into a household word, and from several cases that have come under our personal observation, there is not the least doubt in our minds but that they are a boon to mankind, and in scores of instances have saved life, when everything else had failed. The cure of Mr. Sharp, whose case we published some time ago, was one of the most remarkable that we have heard of. To-day he is as well as ever he was in his life, and is daily knocking about in all weathers attending to his farm duties. Recently another triumph for Pink Pills came under our observation, and after interviewing the person cured, he gave permission to make the facts public, and we will give the story in his own words. Mr. John Hawkins, who resides in the township of Dartington, some ten miles north of Bowmanville, and whose postoffice is Elmville, came to the county from Cornwall, England, some 45 years ago, and up to the time of his sickness had always been a hardworking man. One day, however, while attending his work, he got wet, took a cold and a severe cold followed, which finally developed into asthma. During the succeeding nine years he was a terrible sufferer from that distressing disease and gradually grew so bad that he could not work frequently spent sleepless nights, and had little or no appetite. Finally he could scarcely walk across the room without panting for breath, and would sit all day with his elbows resting on his knees—the only position which seemed to give him ease, and at one time he never laid down for six weeks. As it was a hardship for him to talk, all he asked was to be left alone. During this time he had been deteriorating and had tried nearly everything, and spent over $100, but got no relief. Finally some one recommended him to take Pink Pills. He thought they could do him no harm at any rate, and procuring a supply he commenced taking them. After he had taken three boxes he found that he was improving, and after taking two more boxes, to the astonishment of all, he walked across the fields to the woods and cut up a cord of wood. He continued the pills and took two more boxes, making seven in all, and to-day is as well as ever he was, but always keeps a box of Pink Pills in the house. The neighbors all began to ask what he had done, as the asthma had left him, and they never expected to hear of him being well again. To one and all he tells that it was Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that did it, and has recommended them to scores of people since his recovery.

With such wonderful cures as these occurring in all parts of the Dominion it is no wonder that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have achieved a greater reputation than any other known medicine. All that is asked of them is a fair trial and the results are rarely disappointing. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills strike at the root of the disease, driving it from the system and restoring the patient to health and strength. In cases of paralysis, spinal troubles, locomotor ataxia, sciatica, rheumatism, erysipelas, scurvy, and other troubles, these pills are superior to all other treatment. They are also a specific for the troubles which make the lives of so many a burden, and speedily restore the rich glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. Men broken down by overwork, worry or excess, will find in Pink Pills a certain cure. Sold by all dealers or sent by mail post paid, at 50c a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y. Beware of imitations and substitutes alleged to be "just as good."

ENGLISH RUSTICITY

We are a country-loving folk, says the London Telegram, and not all the town vocations which the modern dispensation condemns most of our satisfaction from the greenwood tree, to go a-maying, and to watch with observant eye the ways of bird and beast, and vegetation. The old pleasures, the old pastimes, those that fascinated Chaucer and his contemporaries, fascinate Englishmen still. The ideal heroine is a milkmaid, and their ideal hero Robin Hood. Novelists may write their own romances, and make their personages become enamored of each other in May, but a breath of fresh country air makes us all feel that we want the creature of our imagination to abide in wooded glange or in hamlet parsonages. Mr. Hardy, in his earlier manner, the manner of "The Woodlanders," gives us what we really care for most, though, because of the simplicity of rural life (and rural loves), what can be said about them by the ordinary person is soon said; whereas the artificial emotions of fashionable life can be analyzed almost endlessly, and certainly ad nauseam. Once away from the desk, the counter, and the forge, and deep in the very heart of rustic England, the Whitehead holiday maker feels that, as Matthew Arnold would have put it, he is once more possessing his soul before he dies. The tedious work, which never springs from mere hard work, but only from work performed under ungenial conditions, and still more from tedious and compulsory pleasures that do not please, is dispelled, as it is by the morning sun, by the sight of the copse carpeted with bluebells, by hedgebottoms lined with stitchwort, and by the sound of white-throat answering white-throat. The very blood tingles with a feeling of freshness, the natural electricity of the scented atmosphere. We win for a time oblivion of all cares, worries and contradictions of workaday life, and a delightful sense of irreconcilability takes the place of sustained watchfulness and solitude, lest anything should go wrong.

HADRIAN'S VILLA.

A drive of half an hour, says a correspondent of the Christian Register, brings you to the fine avenue of cypresses that serves as introduction to the villa of Hadrian. A short afternoon walk all the time would give you a place that might profitably be studied for days. It is, therefore, only a simple and very brief impression that I can offer of the ruins. They lie on a high plateau, now planted with an extensive olive orchard. Pensive men, women and children—were in the trees, mounted on ladders or nestled in the branches. Their laughing faces came out of the leaves as they gathered the fruit and sang a simple melody. The ruins seem more like those of a city than of the country residence of an emperor. They are simply bewildering in extent and variety. The grottoes and conjectures of archaeologists have given them names; and you try and try to reconstruct the splendors of the painted porch, the guest house, the philosopher's walk, the chapel, the stadium, the natatorium, the triclinium, the hospital, the library and many other places.

There are wonderful superstructures, massive leaps of wall, broken columns, mosaic inclosed spaces—circular, square, oblong—beautiful pavements, heaps of broken marble, marvels of all kinds that you gaze and dream over, vainly trying to get back into that old life, to put up walls and replace statues and restore splendors, and people all with men and women, dignitaries, senators, strangers, slaves, sages, poets. At last you sit down at the foot of a crooked olive on the capital of a fallen column, and sigh out your inward thankfulness that nature is always intelligible, always simple, while the neglected works of man are easily fall into confusion and doubt. All around was that warm, smiling landscape, sunny, genial, friendly, familiar. Hadrian, in comparison, seemed like a cold and obscuring mist, his ruins a curious puzzle, his grandeur a nightmare. He was a good chooser of sights. He knew the pretty lay of the land when he saw it. His villa stood in a lovely spot. Below lay the exquisite little artificial valley of Canopus or Temple, cut in the tufa rock. Formerly a famous temple of Serapis rose here, and thousands of worshippers came at the time of her festival to worship. During the excavations vast stores of Egyptian treasures were found here, which now form part of the collections of the Vatican. Now Serapis and all who did her honor are gone forever; but the lovely little valley with its rock terraces still is there, growing green and flowery under the touch of spring. Fountains with white, long-horned oxen, were peacefully plowing its sacred soil. A gentle, sunny silence fell over it. The airy goddess had received her way here hundreds of years. Man seems such an accident in a place like this that we wonder how any of his scratches on the earth's surface, his heaped-up pebbles, have survived the tooth of time.

BOBBIES OF BACHELORS.

One woman who writes thinks that men have as many fads as women. She feels convinced that the fancy for the left hind foot of a rabbit, for certain kinds of caramels and toads, for peculiar pets and orchids, for a collection of old pillows and other curious ornaments is offset by the masculine fancies pertaining to their sex or to the individuals among the gentler sex whom they happen to fancy. The girl with brothers, she declares, is apt to know more about male weaknesses than less favored members of the sex. She finds considerable difficulty in regarding any young man as a hero, and when occasion offers she is by no means averse to speaking her mind freely about the male sex in general. At a recent "dove" luncheon the conversation turned on hobbies, one or two of the girls expressing the opinion that the sex to which they belonged ran too much to that sort of thing. Prompt dissent from this view was uttered by a girl who has three brothers. She said: "We girls get credit for an awful lot of faddishness, but I don't believe we are any more given to riding hobbies than men are."

Somewhat asked: "What kind of fads do you think men foster?" "Oh," answered the sister of three brothers, "real foolish fancies. For instance, I have a college friend who has a panel hinged in one corner of his room, and on it he fastens all the half-worn slippers he can collect from girls. Such a curiosity that slipper book of his is. Of course he doesn't label the shoes; that would be altogether too public. But the odds and ends of footgear he has collected would stock a shoe chest. Funniest part of this collection is the man who owns it boasts that he has in turn adored capriciously the various owners of the different slippers."

Similar to this fad is that of securing gloves. Several of my brothers' friends have gone systematically to work to get together as many suede, dogskin, and dressed gloves as they could beg, borrow, or steal from the girls of their acquaintance. Handkerchief collections have always been a fad I fancy, with masculinity. "Some young men keep a stock of stick pins on hand, and that reminds me of a pickle of a stickpin collection got a certain youth collected college pins from all the girls he knew who were attending higher education." As a result he could display quite an assortment of unemulged stickpins. He placed them over the lapel of his coat. He used to wear them as sentimental trophies, much as an Indian would dangle scalps from his belt. One day the stickpin collector was to escort his very best girl to a football game, and the stickpin array confronting him on his coat front he hastily removed all but

Hair, Hair!

Prof. DORENWEND Is Coming.

It is contrary to nature that the head should be bald. Let that be fully understood. Is it not a fact that many ladies and gentlemen do not wear artificial hair for no other reason than pride? Unfortunately they have been a marked increase of late in business and gray hair, and the result is the loss of an attractive and refined appearance. Many ladies have the wretched habit of crimping and curling their own hair instead of buying an article according to the style. The result is they ruin their hair when new styles come in they are unable to follow them.

Prof. DORENWEND, of the Dorenwend Co., Ltd., of Toronto, has for thirty years demonstrated the beautifying effects of wearing his hair goods. Thousands of THE BEST LADIES and gentlemen of Canada and the United States are wearing his articles today. In many cases the manufactured article is more becoming than the natural growth, and not even an expert can detect that the hair is not real. THE PROFESSOR carries an immense stock of

Ladies' and Gents' Wigs, Toupees (half wigs) Bangs, Wavy Fronts, Switches, Braids, Etc.,

In every form, shade and quality. All can be pleased. Cast aside FALSE NOTIONS, and provide yourself at once with a hair-dress that will give charming effects. Prof. Dorenwend will be in Victoria, at the Victoria Hotel.

July 1st, 2nd and 3rd, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

This opportunity should not be lost. It might be added that the Professor also carries with him a full line of hair dyes in every shade, Hair and Face Creams, and Theatrical Wigs, Whiskers and Moustaches.

Let the date of the visit be borne in mind. Victoria, at the Victoria Hotel, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, July 1, 2 and 3.

the one the "best girl" had given him, fastening the others underneath his collar. The course of true love runs smoothly that day, until the thoughtless pin collector turned his coat collar up about his ears. Then those many colored college pins told their tale. He and his best girl have parted company now, but the youth still collects college stickpins. Talk about fads, though, the stickiest one I know of is run for all it is worth by a man who has what he calls a "son-of-a-bitch" book. He has gotten a common scrap book and bound it with white linen, on which is a water-color sketch of a girl's head, with flowing locks and a lot of loose hairpins scattered about. Inside the book you will find hairpins of every shape and size. They are fastened to the pages by means of little slips of paper pasted across the centre of them. There are initials under each one. Unless you could see this book you have no idea of how much romance can lurk about a hairpin. How does he get them? Well I don't know. I have seen the book, but I don't by any means pretend to know the inside history of its creation. Philadelphia Telegraph.

PORT SIMPSON.

Port Simpson, June 26.—The schooner Queen Charlotte arrived here from Massett on the 10th, after a voyage of two days, she having been delayed at Dundas Island on account of the storm. The passengers for here were the Rev. J. H. Koen and wife, also Wm. Stevens, of the Hudson's Bay Company. The two former will for a time take the place of Rev. Stephenson, who will soon leave for a trip South, while the latter hopes to remain here for the summer.

The Glad Tidings returned from Victoria on the evening of the 12th, and since then has been lying at the wharf. On the 14th the Nell passed outside the harbor on her way to the Naas, and called in here the next day. She remained until the 17th and then left for Claxton with thirteen canoes in tow, and carrying as passengers Mr. J. M. Lindsay, Alexander, Mr. S. Robertson, and about twenty-six or more Indians, who will be employed in the Claxton canyons. On the morning of the 19th the Vigilance came, and left the same evening for Metlakatla.

Some fifty Indians from Massett landed here on the 15th, and have taken up their abode in the "Great" house, but they will soon leave for the canyons.

On account of the irregularity of the boats the public schools were allowed to close a week earlier, so as to give the teachers and some of the pupils a chance of spending most of their holidays at home. For this purpose a notable entertainment was held on the evening of the 19th, the school house being beautifully decorated for the occasion, with ferns, flags, flowers, evergreens and Chinese lanterns. It commenced at 7 o'clock, there being over forty people present, and Mr. C. W. Clifford acted as chairman. The first number on the programme was a chorus, "All Among the Barley," by the school children, and this was followed by a solo, given by Master Harold Crosby, which was very much appreciated by the audience. Then the different classes were orally examined in the following subjects: Grammar, history, geography, anatomy, physiology and hygiene. After this another song was given, "The Song of Spring." The fourth number was a solo, "Afterwards," by Miss Martha O'Neill, and another by Miss S. J. Alexander, "All in a Garden Fair." Then Master Gordon Lockert, favored the audience with a delightful recitation, "The Fair Ship." This was followed by another, "The Poet's Calendar," by twelve of the smaller children. The next was a dialogue, "The Age of Progress," those that took part in it were Master Wm. Alexander, Miss Martha O'Neill and Master John Gibson. Another dialogue followed the former one. It was "Mrs. Willis' Will," and proved to be the star piece of the evening. The performers were the Misses Gertrude Crosby, Sarah, and Rachel Alexander, and Martha and Katherine O'Neill. The programme having come to an end the prizes were distributed. Those that received rolls of honor were the Misses M. O'Neill, R. Alexander and A. Alexander. Martha O'Neill was presented with a beautiful bronze inkstand, by Mrs. Clifford, for composition writing. Miss Minnie Alexander received from Mrs. T. Crosby a handsomely bound volume of Mrs. Browning's poems. Those that obtained other prize books were Jno. Gibson, Harold Crosby, Gordon Lockert, Katherine O'Neill and Phebe Trammell. It all ended with a few remarks from some of the elders, and "God Save the Queen."

Miss C. M. Hall leaves on this boat for Victoria, where she will spend most of her holidays. She has been such a blessing to this school that the inhabitants will be glad to see her return again. Capt. J. H. Bonser and Mr. George Dodge have become joint owners of Mr. Clifford's sailboat launch.

There is very little left to be said of the salmon strike, as the managers were compelled to submit to the demands of the Indians, and so it is nearly all smoothed over now.

The Danube arrived at twelve o'clock to-day, just stayed long enough to put off the mail and passengers, and then started on her way to the Naas. She will return at midnight.

Miss Colwell, Mr. Cullen, Rev. Stephenson and Miss C. Hall will be passengers from here on the Danube.

MIDWAY.

Mr. Dan Lore, of Murray, Idaho, passed through Midway last week on his way to Rock Creek, where he has gone to take charge of the hydraulic mine for Mr. Monaghan.

Mr. H. Cawston, passed through to Rosland last week with a nice band of prize beef steers. This is the first of the summer's drive, and they will be taken over the Dewdney trail.

Mr. D. Graham has made a strike of very good ore on the mountain between Myers Flat and Keweenaw and has started some good leads.

Petate, a telluride of gold and silver, of a very rich character, has been found in the ore from the Enterprise claim on the Jewel lead in the Long Lake camp. The percentage of gold in the telluride is very high—18.39 per cent.

Mr. J. Schofield is busy at work developing the Bray Eagle claim in Summit camp. The Bray Eagle lies next to the Mountain Rose, and the ore that is being taken out is pronounced very fine. Mr. W. T. Smith owns an interest in the claim.

Mr. Cartney and Mr. Babinger, of Salt Lake City, the gentlemen who bought out the R. Bell and other claims in Summit camp, are on their way in to examine their property and make preparations for the further development of the claims.

Mr. Jack Bucher has bonded his claim, the Copper King, which is situated on the mountain near Keweenaw, to Captain Hall, a gentleman well known in this district, and Mr. J. H. Cartney, of the Similkameen, has also bonded two claims in the same vicinity as the former to the same party.

The Oro Denora, upon which a bond has just been given, is owned by W. A. Corbett, who located the claim in the fall of 1895. The claim lies in Summit Camp, and is the northern extension of the Mountain Rose. The ore body is a tremendous one, although at the same time not one solid body of ore, as it is composed of a number of veins interspersed with country rock, which constituting the formation of the camp, consists principally of granite and lava. The character of the bond given may be said to be rather unique, as its provisions stipulate that on June 4 $100 be paid, July 4 $200, August 4 $200, and $100 per month for 10 months following, and $300,000 on or before the 1st of June, 1898. The bond conveys the privilege to the party bonding—Mr. Ross Thompson—of mining and carrying away ore to any amount, the net proceeds, however, to be paid to Mr. Corbett, the same to form part of the purchase money.

SOUTH SAANICH SCHOOL.

Large Attendance at the Closing Exercises on Thursday.

On Thursday the closing exercises of South Saanich school took place with a goodly number of visitors in attendance. The examination conducted by the teacher, Mr. George H. Slaggett, was held in the forenoon, and then a pleasant two hours were spent in the grove near by, where a table well provided with good things was spread by the ladies. The exhibition, consisting of songs, recitations and exercises then followed. The recitations of the school brigade were highly appreciated by the visitors.

The winners in two spelling contests for prizes given by H. D. McNeale were: Senior, Lottie L. Turgoose; Junior, William H. Veitch.

Prizes were awarded for map drawing to: Annie M. Harrison, Lillian E. McNeale and Florence Simpson; to Charles Richardson as the most popular scholar; and to Marian E. Camp for being one of the two who made full attendance during the year.

Winners of provincial rolls of honor: Proficiency, Laura J. Veitch; deportment, Elizabeth Rey; regularity and punctuality, Winnifred E. Turgoose. Laura J. Veitch, Hugh W. McNeale, Marian E. Camp and Gertrude Macfarlane were successful at High school entrance examination. Mabel E. R. Thompson, Annie M. Harrison and Alicia Rey were promoted to the fifth class, and Lillian E. McNeale and Fred L. Thompson to the fourth class.

After brief complimentary remarks from Messrs. George Harrison (trustee), E. R. John (trustee), Ed. John, Jr., J. Slaggett and Mrs. J. Camp, the school was dismissed for the holidays.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor:—Please inform your readers that, if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure by which I was permanently restored to health and nearly seven years' suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak sunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but, thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell, and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy, and as I do not wish to expose myself either, please address simply: P. O. Box 383, London, Ont.

CURIOUS FACTS ABOUT THE SUN.

Sun spots were first observed in the year 1611, says the Republican. Sun spots always travel from east to west across the sun's disk.

A writer in "Nature" says that the temperature of the sun's surface cannot be less than 18,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

The largest sun spot on record was seen in 1858. It was 143,000 miles long.

In order that the reader may make a comparison, I will say that a Besselian converter is never heated above 3000 degrees.

It is claimed that the sun's rays put out fire by reflecting the air, causing it to flow more slowly toward the burning article.

Should the earth be accidentally moved to within a distance of 240,000 miles of the sun it would wholly dissolve and pass away like vapor in less than an hour.

The sun is 800,000 miles in diameter. The earth could be placed on the inside of it and the moon, 240,000 miles away, could still revolve around the center, both the moon and the earth being on the inside of the great light-giver.

Some astronomers, those who believe in the "annual" or "ring" theory of creation, believe that the earth and all the planets were once a part of "the ring" that the earth is one of the rings thrown off by the great luminosity, and that the earth, in turn, threw off a ring which became the moon.

Belgium's famous band of the First Regiment of Guides must be cut down to forty-two performers, as King Leopold is going to discontinue his yearly subsidy of 15,000 francs, and the war ministry can allow to the guides no more than to other regiments.

THEY COUNT BY THE SCORE

Yea, By the Hundreds, Those Who Have Been Cured of Dire Disease By South American Nervine.

A Remedy Widespread and Universal in Its Application.

Where Other Medicines Have Failed and Doctors Have Pronounced the Cases Beyond Cure, This Great Discovery Has Proven a Genuine Elixir of Life.

The Same Remedy Comes From Old and Young, Male and Female, Rich and Poor, and From All Corners of the Dominion.

If it is the case that he who makes two blades of grass grow where only one had grown before is a benefactor of the race, what is the position to be accorded that man who by his knowledge of the laws of life and health gives energy and strength where languor, weakness and anticipation of an early death had before prevailed? Is not he also a public benefactor? Let those who have been down and are now up through the use of South American Nervine give their opinions on this subject. John Boyer, banker, of Kitchener, Ont., had made himself a languid invalid through years of overwork. At least he felt his case was hopeless, for the best physicians had failed to do him good. He tried Nervine, and there are his words: "I gladly say it: Nervine cured me and I am to-day as strong and well as ever."

Samuel May, of Meaford, was cured of neuralgia of the stomach and bowels by three bottles of this medicine. Jas. Sherwood, of Windsor, at 70 years of age, suffered from an attack of paralysis. At first, at first, he was despondent. But four bottles of Nervine gave him back his natural strength. A victim of indigestion, W. F. Bolger, of Newfrew, says: "Nervine cured me of my suffering, which seemed incurable, and had baffled all former methods and efforts." Peter Esson, of Fairley, lost flesh and pearly had a good night's sleep, because of stomach trouble. He says: "Nervine stopped the agonizing pains in my stomach the first day I used it. I have now taken two bottles and I feel entirely relieved and can sleep like a top."

A representative farmer, of Western Ontario, is Mr. C. J. Curtis, residing near Windsor. His health was seemingly completely destroyed through his grippe. No medicine did him any good. "To three bottles of Nervine," he says, "I attribute my restoration to health and strength." Neither man or woman can enjoy life when troubled with liver complaint. This was the sentiment and feeling of W. J. Hill, the well-known ballist of Bracebridge. "I was so bad," says he, "that one of my medical attendants said that I was dying, but thank God, I am not dead yet. From the first few doses I took of Nervine I commenced to feel better, and am to-day restored completely to my normal health."

A resident of the Maritime Provinces, in the person of S. Jones, of Sussex, N.B., says: "For twelve years I was a martyr to indigestion, constipation and headache. The treatment of several physicians was not complete and comprehensive in its aid."

Newspaper space is too valuable to permit of further additions to these earnest words of testimony from those who know just what they are talking about. In the common language of the day, they have been there, and are speaking from the heart. The dozen or more witnesses that here speak have their counterparts by the hundreds, not only in the province of Ontario, but in every other section of the Dominion. South American Nervine is based on a scientific principle that makes a cure a certainty, no matter how desperate the case may be. It strikes at the nerve centers from which flows the life blood of the whole system. It is not a medicine of patchwork, but is complete and comprehensive in its aid."

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

Events of Interest in the Amateur and Professional Field.

THE RING.

CREEDEN-CHOYNSKI.

Chicago, June 27.—Dan Creedon, who won the middle and heavy-weight championships of England by defeating the "Coffee Cooler" and Jim Smith, and Joe Choynski, now in California, have been virtually matched. Arrangements as made, although no articles of agreement have been signed, call for the men to battle at 162 pounds, for the largest purse that can be secured.

Col. John D. Hopkins and C. E. Davies, their respective managers, have been haggling for some time with regard to bringing the men together. The former held out for 150 pounds for 150, while Davies was not anxious to have Joe enter the ring below 165. Hopkins was the first to give way by proposing to match his man at 162, which, after nearly a month's haggling, Davies consented to. When or where the contest will take place depends entirely on the purse question, but from the present outlook the east will get the fight. Choynski and Creedon met in a six-round bout at Tottenham's over a year ago, in which the former had considerably the best of the argument. Creedon, however, was not in the best condition at the time, and does not hesitate to say that he can defeat Joe, and Col. Hopkins thinks likewise.

FISHING FOR A FIGHT.

San Francisco, June 27.—James Corbett will issue a challenge for the world championship to all comers. Fitzsimmons preferred. If Fitz does not accept the challenge within two weeks, then Sharkey will have the preference. Corbett says he believes the fight can be pulled off in Mexico near the scene of Fitzsimmons-Maher battle. Sharkey is also anxious for a finish fight with Corbett. This morning Sharkey received a challenge from Maher offering to fight him for $5000 a side.

WHICH WAS WHICH?

San Francisco, June 27.—In discussing the Sharkey fight Corbett said: "Please call it a wrestling match. There was not one round of fighting in the four. Every time I led or landed on Sharkey he clinched with me, and I could not get in a blow, the referee being unable to pull him away. You noticed that the referee did all his work on Sharkey, endeavoring to separate us while I held both hands free and was ready to break. He simply hugged me from start to finish and there was no legitimate fight in it. I call it a hugging match."

Here is Sharkey's version: "Well, I fought him as best I knew how. He appeared me every time we were separated, which, I believe, is a foul. At all events, I did not attempt to retaliate, until I realized that I was getting the worst of it. Corbett hung on my shoulders every time we clinched, and it was he, not I, who was unwilling to break away. I fought from start to finish, and fought fair to protect my own reputation and the money of my friends, and I leave it to the public to decide who had the best of it."

Sharkey has challenged Corbett to meet him in a finish fight for $10,000 a side. Corbett says he wants to go as soon, but will fight the sailor if he will secure the backing at once.

THE TURF.

DOMINION DAY RACES.

Dominion Day in Victoria generally fails to offer any special attraction to which those who are obliged to remain in the city can go, but the trotting and running races at the driving park on Wednesday afternoon next will give everyone an opportunity of witnessing a good day's sport. The free for all trotting and pacing race will in itself be a great exhibition, as with Traveller, Wilkes, Mink and Snodish Boy entered. It will certainly take more than three heats to decide the victory, and the long-drawn-out question of supremacy between Mink and Snodish Boy will finally be settled. Both horses have put in special preparation for this event, and it will not be a surprise to many if the track record is broken. Mink has always been a fast gaiter, but Snodish Boy has made wonderful improvement in the hands of his present trainer, and he is a hundred per cent. better horse than when he last appeared in public. A trotting race for buggy horses, best two heats in three, and a half mile running race will complete the programme, and everyone who takes an interest in equine contests will go to the driving park next Wednesday afternoon.

BASEBALL.

TEAMS DISBAND.

After playing a series of exhibition games in Tacoma the Victoria baseball team has been disbanded. Most of the players go to California, and Klop and Whaling go east, the latter having been engaged by the Whaling, Va. team. The Tacoma has left for the Middle States, where they will join one of the leagues. On the way they will play a number of games. Darby has joined the Tacoma and will be their star twirler.

AQUATICS.

Healy-on-Thames, June 27.—All crews indulged in light practice to-day. The Leander and New College were not out. Yale was on the water at 10:30.

YACHTING.

Huntin Quay, Fifth of Clyde, June 27.—The regatta of the Royal Clyde yacht club opened to-day, to dull weather and southwest breeze blowing. The race for the big yachts was over the regular fifty-mile course of the club for prizes of $400 and $100. The Albatross, Britannia and Britannia started at 10:30 a.m. The former allows the Britannia 23 seconds, Britannia 3 minutes 5 seconds.

The Niagara, Dragon, The Saint, Zircia, and Penitent started at 11 o'clock in the order named.

A SPARROW'S FREAK.

A few years ago a lady living in the Via Volturno in Rome, had some pet canaries in cages, which she every day hung out on a balcony in front of her kitchen window. She observed a sparrow frequently come and perch on one side of the cages, and one evening when she brought in her birds she unawares brought in also the little wild visitor, perched on its favorite cage. It showed no fear, and pecked the crumbs she offered it. Evening after evening the same bird continued to come in with its imprisoned friend. An empty cage with food was left near, and in this it made its abode at night, the door always being left open.

Spring came and the sparrow flew away, then the summer passed, and with the shortening days she returned, boldly entering the kitchen, surrounded by a brood of four or five squabblers. She had come, it seemed, to greet her old friend, and introduce her treasures to her. They all confidently ate the crumbs scattered on the kitchen floor. Soon winter came, and with it the sparrow again as an established lodger with her. Again the soft breezes of a southern spring whispered of new nests and broods, and the sparrows flew away, but this time, alas! to return no more.—London Spectator.

A BABY HYENA.

The baby hyena is the star attraction at the Central Park Zoo. A hyena in infancy is cute, bright-eyed, soft, pudgy and kittenish. But it grows out of this in time, and this frolicsome little creature will a few years hence be as villainously ugly as he is now delightful. It is a brownish-hued creature, with a black muzzle, about as tall and as fat as a Newfoundland puppy. His age is three months—a fact due to the vigilance of the keeper, as her "ma" has shown heretofore a disposition to eat her offspring, having in this unnatural manner disposed of half a dozen youngsters, that would have been brothers and sisters to the latest arrival.

Mrs. Hyena is as tall as a St. Bernard, and her infant freely walks under the arch of her shaggy and ill-smelling body. The baby just now has long forelegs and short hind legs, and moves about with an awkward wobble that greatly amuses the children who throng before the cage. When the baby grows up he will laugh, as does his mother, a laugh that carries terror with it to every breast in the Zoo, but just now the laugh is simply a joyous gurgle. The mother is fond of her son in a hyena way, and evidently believes with Solomon that to spare the rod is to spoil the child. One day last week she gave her offspring a flogging that he will not forget in a hurry. It seems that when the daily allowance of meat, scraps and bones were thrown into the cage she declined to allow the infant any portion of it. Someone called the keeper's attention to this seemingly selfish act, but the speaker said "She probably knew the best."

The youngster evidently did not share the keeper's opinion of the wisdom of his mother, for he made a futile effort to seize a juicy morsel of horse meat, was caught in the act and punished. His name is "Whiskers."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

EXPERIMENTS WITH X RAYS.

Oliver Lodge, the celebrated English electrician, says that a great deal of careful and laborious experimentation will have to be done if we are to reach anything like the full benefit of Professor Röntgen's discovery within the next few years. The direction in which Mr. Lodge thinks it desirable to seek for improvement as soon as possible is the kind of film used for photographic work. Tests should be made persistently until a more suitable film is discovered. Regarding X rays in sunlight, he claims that proper experiments should be made on the tops of high mountains, because the atmosphere is equivalent to over 100 feet of mercury, and must, therefore, entirely screen these rays from lower levels. Alpine tourists have often reported a fogging of plates which was unaccountable. The fluorescing power of these rays seems to show that they possess plenty of energy; the use of fluorescing sensitive films may be a step in the right direction; but a fluorescent coating near the film tends to scatter and diffuse the light, and the shadows are not as clear and sharp.

For 1895 the receipts of the Suez canal for traffic were 78,428,000 francs, an increase of 1,300,000 francs over last year. Part of this was due to the French expedition to Madagascar and the Italian troubles in Abyssinia. The number of vessels was 3,434, of which 3,206 passed through by night. The tonnage was 8,448,283; 2,318 of the vessels were English and 5 American. The passengers transported were 118,635 soldiers, 74,878 civilians, and 23,421 pilgrims.

Sick Headache
CURED PERMANENTLY
BY TAKING
Ayer's Pills

"I was troubled a long time with sick headache. I tried a good many remedies recommended for this complaint; but it was not until I began taking Ayer's Pills that I received permanent benefit. A single box of these pills freed me from headache, and I am now a well man."

—G. R. HUTCHINGS, East Aurora, N. Y.
Awarded Medal at World's Fair.
Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the Best.
